RULES OF BUSINESS,

Bengal Secretariat.

REVISED EDITION
1900.

Calcutta:
BENGAL SECRETARIAT PRESS.
1900.

FIRST EDITION.

Extract from a Minute by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, dated Darjeeling, the 15th October 1891.

"With a view to secure uniformity of system and despatch of business in the Secretariat of the Government of Bengal, the following rules have been prepared and are to be observed by all departments of the Secretariat. In the event of any change in, or addition to, the rules being considered necessary by any Secretary, his proposal should be circulated among the Secretaries, and if there is a difference of opinion among them, the Lieutenant-Governor's orders should be taken by the Secretary advocating a change. The Financial Department will be in executive charge of the rules, to carry out the decisions arrived at, to circulate the correcting slips, and to bring out new editions."

SECCND EDITION.

"A revised edition of the Rules of Business is now issued for the guidance of the several Departments of the Secretariat. The suggestions conveyed in Home Department letter No. 1565, dated 17th July 1899, have been considered, and such of them as are applicable to the Bengal Secretariat are now included in the rules. All Addenda and Corrigenda passed since the issue of the 1st edition in 1891 have been embodied."

Financial Dept.: E. N. BAKER,

Calcutta, the 1st August 1900. Secy. to the Govt.

of Bengal.

PART II.

REGISTERS OF CORRESPONDENCE.

3. At the beginning of the calendar year the Head Assistant of each Department shall have a file-index or alphabetical list of the then current files prepared for every Branch under him in the following form:—

Index No.	Class of subject.	File No.	File title,
1	2	3	4
1A	Accounts	1A 1 1A 2	Accounts.—Railway establishments, Easter Bengal State Railway. Accounts.—Sale of unclaimed property.

4. The current files are arranged in alphabetical order according to the nature of How prepared. the subject and grouped so as to keep the index numbers of large classes of subjects unchanged from year to year. Thus in a Department having a large number of account cases to deal with, the index number 1A is reserved for accounts, and all cases of this class are numbered $\frac{1}{1}$, $\frac{1A}{2}$, and so on as they arise. At the beginning of the year files which remain over from the previous year receive a fresh file number, but their index number remains unchanged. instance, if at the close of the year the account files $\frac{1A}{5}$, $\frac{1A}{17}$, and $\frac{1A}{23}$ were still undisposed of, these would be numbered for the ensuing year 1A, 1A, and $\frac{1A}{3}$.

5. Space must be left at the end of each subject heading and at the end of each letter for the entry of fresh files.

These will be of two kinds—

(a) files which fall under an existing class of subject.

such as 1A = Accounts; (b) files which do not fall under any existing heading, and require a new heading. As regards (a), all that is required is to enter the subject in column 4, and to add a file number to the series of numbers relating to that class in column 3. In the case of (b), fresh files which do not come under any existing class of subject, the Head Reference clerk will have to add the new subject to the alphabetical list of subjects in column 2, and to add to the series of index numbers in column 1, of file numbers in column 3, and of file titles in column 4. The Head Assistant of each Department is supplied with a complete set of the file-indexes of all other Departments.

6. The Diary is the register of letters received.

It is to be kept in the following form:—

Serial No.	Branch.	From whom	No.	Date.	When received.	Subject.	File and Proceed- ings Nos.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8
205		Commissioner of Burdwan.	296	9th August.	10th August.	Increase Treasury Establis h m e n t , Bankura.	1A 22 B. Aug. Nos.15-16.

Column 7 must be filled up very concisely, the object being merely to keep a memorandum of the subject full enough to enable a copy to be procured from the issuing office in the event of the original being mislaid.

7. The File-book is a register of files showing the subject and the number of letters each file contains. It is kept by the Reference clerk in the following form, a page or half a page, as may be convenient, being allotted to each file, and the subject entered at the top:—

File No.	From or to.	Number and date,	Purport of letter.	Serial number in file.	Proceedings number when recorded.	Year in which sent to record room.	Previous pa-
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8

The purport of the letter should be entered very briefly, the object being merely to keep a memorandum of its contents full enough to enable a copy to be procured from the issuing office in the event of the original being mislaid. When a file or portion of a file is recorded in proceedings, the number and month under which it is recorded are shown in column 6.

8. The sorter keeps the register of letters issued in the following form:—

Serial No.	Branch.	Date of letter.	To whom.	Subject,	File number and number in file,	Date of despatch.
1	2.	3	4	5	6	7

9. The sorter also keeps a register of demiofficial letters in the following form:—

Department—Demi-official Register, 1900. •

Serial No.	To whom addressed.	Brief subject.	Date of issue.
1	2	3	4

10. A Press Register of all papers sent to Press is also kept by the sorter in the following form:—

Serial No.	File number or subject.	Date of sending to Press.	Initial of Press Assistant and date.
1	2	3	4

11. The Despatch Register shows when signed letters are sent off from the office. It is kept by the despatcher in the following form:—

12. Every Department keeps a register of cases sent unofficially to other Departments in the following form:—

Serial No.	Date on which sent.	To whom sent, and why.	File No.	Subject.	Receipt of Depart- ment.	Date on which received back.
1	2-4-1900	Appointment for opinion.	2A 3	T. A. of C., Burdwan.	G. C. C. 2-4	16-4-1900

The object ment. of this is Appointment against the department to guard promoting in ordinary course an officer who may shortly afterwards be censured for misconduct coming under the notice of another department. receiving such a notice, the Appointment Department either awaits the result of the question pending in the other department, or calls for the papers to enable it to decide as to its own action. When final orders are passed, the Department concerned, if the officer is completely exonerated, sends the Appointment Department an intimation to that effect, or if he is censured or criticised, sends a copy of the orders. In the former case the Appointment Department takes no action: in the latter it enters the censure in its character book. But when a punishment is inflicted on an officer the Appointment Department is consulted before the orders issue. Correspondence in which an officer is commended or thanked is also sent to the Appointment Department for record; but in this case no preliminary notice is necessary, such as is required when it appears that censure is impending.

102. All expenditure which is debitable, either wholly or in part, against the Imperial or the Provincial revenues, or any Local Fund under the control of the Government of Bengal, requires the previous sanction of the Financial Department at some stage. The fact that provision has been made in the budget for any charge in no way removes the necessity for obtaining the express sanction of the Financial Department to such charge, unless such sanction has been previously accorded.

103. Except with the previous consent of the Financial Department, no grant may be transferred from one budget head or sub-head to another head or sub-head unless both items—that from which the grant is transferred and that to which it is transferred—have been previously sanctioned in full by the Financial Department.

104. Except with the previous consent of the Financial Department, no grant which has been sanctioned for expenditure on any object may be expended on any other object.

105. Except with the previous consent of the Financial Department, no expenditure may be incurred against anticipated savings in the budget grant.

106. To avoid the necessity of petty references, all departments of the Secretariat are authorised, without previous reference to the Financial Department, to finally sanction any expenditure not exceeding Rs. 100 for each item; provided—

(a) that it is not on account of an item of

Contract contingencies;

(b) that it does not involve an increase of salaries, or any permanent charge upon the Imperial or Provincial revenues, or any debit against the budget for the following year;

(c) that it is included in the monthly return of extra grants forwarded to the Financial Department.

(d) that it is met by a specific re-appropriation of the budget grant under the same major head of account.

107. When an application for expenditure which is not covered by any existing sanction, and which does not fall within the provisions of Rule 106, is received in any department of the Secretariat, the procedure for obtaining and according sanction shall be as follows:—

(a) The application shall first be considered on its merits by the administrative Department concerned.

(b) If such department, hereafter called the initiating Department, considers that the expenditure should be incurred, it shall send the file to the Financial Department with the enquiry whether that department has any objection.

(c) If the Financial Department has no objection, it shall record its opinion to that effect on the file, and shall then return the file to the initiating Department. It may at the same time ask to see in draft the orders which it is proposed to issue. In such a case the orders shall not issue until they have been approved by the Financial Department.

(d) The initiating Department shall then issue such orders as it shall think fit, sanctioning the expenditure, and shall send a copy of such orders to the Financial Department, which will forward it to the Accountant-General. Copies of orders thus forwarded will not be kept by the Financial Department.

(e) If, on receipt of a file under the provisions of clause (b) of this rule, the Financial Department has any objection to the expenditure in question being incurred, either wholly or in part, it shall record its objection on the file, and shall then return the file to the initiating Department.

- (f) On return of the file, the initiating Department, if it perseveres in its approval of the proposed expenditure, must submit the case for the orders of the Lieutenant-Governor.
- 108. Rules 102 to 107 apply to all expenditure which is incurred under the orders of this Government, whether such expenditure is chargeable (a) to Imperial heads of account, such as Opium or Ecclesiastical, (b) to Provincial heads, such as Law and Justice or Education, (c) to Divided heads, such as Forest or Registration, or (d) to any Local Fund under the control of the Government

The correspondence with the Government of India is included in the proceedings of the Financial Department, and a copy of the final order is sent to the departments concerned by official endorsement. But when any relaxation is recommended on behalf of any particular individual, the reference to the Government of India is made direct from the administrative Department concerned, the opinion of the Financial Department being previously taken, if necessary.
